

Dear parents/carers

I can not believe it is half term already; it has been a very busy term, full of celebrations of our children and their learning, parents' workshops on reading and celebration of harvest.

I would like to say a big thank you to all our parents who have supported us throughout this term and to request that you continue to support us as we all work hard to ensure the very best for our children.

Thank you to all the parents who attended the reading workshops and the harvest festivals; there were so many of you and we are very grateful that you came as it makes a huge difference to our children.

I wish you all wonderful break and we will see our children back in school on Monday 28th October.

Share a book!

Reading books aloud to children stimulates their imagination and expands their understanding of the world. Reading with your child everyday is important.

Even after children learn to read themselves, it is still important to read aloud together. By reading stories that are beyond your child's reading level, you can stretch your child's understanding, develop their vocabulary and motivate them to improve their own reading skills.
